The American Numismatic Association, an educational and nonprofit organization, is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons eleven years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens or medals, whether advanced collectors or only those generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The association was founded in 1891, and has about 27,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It was chartered for fifty years by Act of Congress May 9, 1912; renewed in perpetuity by Act of Congress April 10, 1962 and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members.

All Association members, except Associate, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $11.00 to cover admittance fee and the first year's dues. Succeeding annual dues are $6.00. Non-member subscriptions, $7.50 per year or three years for $20.00. Single copy 75¢. For application blanks or other information, write to Executive Director, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80901.

The Numismatist is an illustrated monthly which has been issued continuously since its founding in 1888, consists of 128 pages or more in each number with subscribers in about sixty countries. Advertising inquiries should be sent to the Advertising Manager. All other matters for possible publication in or concerning The Numismatist are to be forwarded to the Editor. Unsolicited manuscripts, which are sent at the owner's risk, and other correspondence calling for a reply must be accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Opinions expressed in articles published in The Numismatist are those of the authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the American Numismatic Association or the Editor.

USES AND ABUSES OF U. S. LARGE CENTS

by Warren A. Lapp, M.D.
ANA 60210

IT IS A well-known fact that United States large cents were disliked and unloved by the general public during the 64 years that these coins were minted. For the most part, cents were regarded as unattractive, with a tendency to blacken on handling and to become foul after use. They were considered a boon to pocket-patchers, being too heavy to carry around as change, and too large and too clumsy to handle conveniently. Miss Liberty on the obverse, despite a frequent change of profiles, was looked upon from an artistic standpoint as unlovely and a "complete bust" . . . almost certainly not the gal to inspire any population explosion. Worst of all, cents never officially had been declared as legal tender or redeemable by the Federal government, and such a status would not be corrected until a long time after the large cent series had been discontinued when Congress finally passed the Coinage Act of April 22, 1864. Hence, shopkeepers and creditors could refuse with impunity, as they often did, to honor the cents or to accept them in payment of debts. Lastly, whenever those companies which served as distribution outlets for the large coppers found the circulation too sluggish, they were prone to flood the market with kegs of cents sold at discount. Such a practice tended to make the coins even less desirable and precipitated a rash of refusals by store owners to accept the coins in exchange for merchandise. This caused undue hardship on the less affluent and resulted in many complaints being forwarded to the Mint and to Congress.

Despite all its unpopularity, however, the large cent series which during its existence underwent many changes of effigy and detail without sacrificing its basic theme, clung more tenaciously to life than did most of its successors. Cents were the first coins struck by the U. S. Mint, and they are the only coins in our nation's history which have been continuously in production without interruption since the first Coinage Act of 1792. In the 177 years since the first cent was struck, only the year 1815 is missing from the series, and that because of a lack of copper occasioned by the War of 1812 due to an embargo imposed by Great Britain against the U. S. importation of planchets from Boulton and Watts.

One of the most interesting things about large cents is that the coins were subjected to all sorts of uses and abuses, both during the period that they were being minted and for the many years which followed. Probably no other coinage series ever was used for so many purposes other than the hard cash for which it was intended. Indeed, if one considers the many utilitarian uses to which large cents were put, he may have reason to marvel that any cents at all were able to survive until the present day.

For one thing, inasmuch as the pure copper in the cent was always near to its actual value as metal, even exceeding it at times as it did from 1851 to 1853, these coins served as a convenient source of copper for craftsmen as well as for industry whenever imports lagged or commercial supplies became over-priced. At such times, it was not uncommon for commercial users to purchase kegs of cents directly from the mint or from the distribution outlets and then melt down the coins to obtain the metal.

Another use for the large cents was in making pickles. Oftentimes, a farmer's wife would drop one of the large coppers into the barrel when pickling cucumbers. The vinegar and brine dissolved the coin and imparted a beautiful green color to the freshly-made pickles. To be sure, the artificial coloring would never have been approved by the FDA — it was both unhealthy and occasionally even toxic to those eating the pickles — but the practice itself was a fairly common one.

Large cents were also used medicinally. Pioneers and farm people frequently resorted to home remedies and nostrums for treating minor illnesses. One such remedy was to place a large cent in a saucer and barely cover it with vinegar. The verdigris which formed was then applied at frequent intervals to ringworm lesions. The remedy proved to be an effective one; and after cure was complete, all one had to do was wipe the coin dry, polish it a little, and then return it to circulation.

Another common use for large cents was for undertakers to place large cents on the eyes of dead people, using the weight of the coins to keep the lids closed. The coins were not usually removed, even when the body was interred. Such a use for the coins gave rise to an expression of extreme contempt for any individual who was particularly disliked, viz. "he was mean enough to steal the pennies off a dead baby's eyes."

Jewelers in the 19th century were prone to use large cents in their store windows to catch one's eyes in an advertising display. It was not uncommon to place a tray or glass jar of large cents in the center of a window display, hoping to attract the attention of those passing by to the items offered for sale. Rarely were the coins themselves available for purchase.

Because copper is a soft metal which is easily bruised, scratched, or dented, some large cents bear evidence of defacements accidentally inflicted. A coin's numismatic value, of course, is decreased by any such damage, the amount of depreciation depending upon the severity of the injury. Many large coppers have dents or rim dings, incurred when the coins were accidentally dropped. Scratches and marks on the coins frequently occurred when they were being counted or packed into kegs at the mint. Storage of the cents in a common container often resulted in surface wear and scratches or markings, e.g. while being shipped in kegs ("keg-rubbed") or while being stored in cigar boxes or coin cabinets ("cabinet friction").

Bent planchets are not uncommon, and some undoubtedly were produced by the wheels of heavy wagons rolling over the coins as they lay, lost in the dust, on 19th century roads. Others may have become misshapen due to excessive heat, as when buildings in which they were stored caught fire and burned.

Accidentally-inflicted coin defacements are not looked upon with the contempt reserved for those coins which obviously have been mutilated. Mutilated large cents are coins which have been damaged or defaced intentionally for any one or more of various reasons. Section 331, Title 18 of the U. S. Code prohibits amongst other things the fraudulent alteration or mutilation of U. S. and foreign coins, although the statute does not prohibit the mutilation of coins without fraudulent intent or if the mutilated coins are not used fraudulently. Likewise, it should be noted that the Federal government can confiscate, without compensation to the owner, any mutilated coins which it deems might be intended for fraudulent use.

Mutilated specimens have little or no numismatic value and are usually disposed of by dealers in "junk" assortments which include badly damaged, unidentifiable, severely corroded, and generally poor or worn coins, worth no more than face value at the most. A few mutilated large cents can be classed as oddities, for which a buyer sometimes can be found. The premium demanded for an oddity may vary considerably, but usually represents a mutual agreement between the buyer and seller.

Large cents frequently were mutilated by misguided, misinformed, sometimes fraudulent efforts of some collectors who thought that, by doing so, they would improve a coin's aesthetic or numismatic value. Inexperienced collectors often attempt to clean their large cents in order to brighten their appearance or to remove spots or stains. Unless one is an expert in such matters, it is not wise to do so. It is acceptable to remove surface dirt and grime by scrubbing the coin with a brush in soap and water or by washing it in xylol or carbon tetrachloride. Cleaning a large cent with acid, a rubber eraser, or a buffing wheel should never be attempted, however. Dirt in crevices or letters can be freed up with a large thorn from a rose bush, or a toothpick, or an orangestick, but a metal instrument or probe should never be used. The color and toning of a large cent comes primarily from the coin's environment; and a pleasing patina takes years, often decades, to form. Any attempt to recolor a large cent by artificial means can be disastrous.

Occasionally dealers, even collectors, attempt to retool or to re-engrave certain areas on a particularly rare variety. Touching-up the hair strands to bring out more prominently the surface highlights has also been tried. Such tampering is readily recognized by the alert numismatist or informed collector, and tends to devalue a large cent rather than to make it more desirable.

Any attempt to alter a coin in an effort to increase its numismatic value is both fraudulent and illegal. Instances are on record where one surface of each of two coins was shaved or ground off until each coin was about half its normal thickness. The two flat surfaces were then soldered together to produce a "freak" coin or mule combination. Another variation was to cut down the diameter of one coin and to hollow out a cup-shape within another, so that the first cent would just fit into the resultant depression of the second. In either case, a joint should always be visible although it may be extremely difficult to detect.

Beware of coins which have an odd thickness; which don't "ring" true; which vary widely from the usual weight; or which have freakish obverse-reverse combinations not previously reported.

Some large cents are seen, having been defaced on one side by bits of solder, indicating that the coins had been used as ornaments or jewelry. Such pieces may have been used in a lady's brooch or a man's tie clasp or cuff-link. Some cents have been "holed" so that they could be suspended from a bracelet or worn as a necklace pendant. It has been reported that some large cents were holed so that the coins could be hung around the necks of slaves or friendly Indians for identification purposes. One informant recently reported an 1828 large cent with a precisely-notched indentation at 2 o'clock. The coin had been found on the shore of the Gunpowder River in Maryland, and its present owner had heard tales that such coins were used to identify slaves escaping along the Underground Railway during the Civil War. Another tale was that such coins had been used as a means of identification by Copperheads during the Civil War.

Some large cents were used as buttons on coats and overcoats. These coins were readily recognized by the single or double holes at or near the center of the pieces.

Holed specimens, when skillfully plugged, may not be recognized on casual examination, especially if the hole is a small one and does not disfigure any important area such as a character in the date or legend. A holed coin, even when skillfully repaired, is still a mutilated coin having considerably less numismatic value than another coin of like grade and variety which has not previously been holed.

Because of the ease with which copper could be worked, and because the cent was of small value, large size, and readily available, it was occasionally modified for some utilitarian use such as a key, gear, or tool. The coin could be used as an emergency screwdriver or prying lever, and it made a good resting point for the tip of a soldering iron. Some cents were serrated so that they could be used as gears or keys. Others were holed to fit precisely over spindles, and thus were used to wind clocks, turn valve-cocks, tighten clamps, operate key-locks, etc. A coin and antique collector recently reported to the author where he had found a large cent used to keep the weight from sliding off the bar on a balance scale. Large cents even have been used on games of chance to provide a low-friction base for the central point of a gambling wheel.

In the 1790s to 1860s it was a common custom, especially in the New England section, to nail a large cent to the ridge pole at the completion of a new house, barn, silo, or corn crib. This was supposed to bring good luck and financial success to the new owner or occupant. Such pieces are readily recognized by a single large square hole near the rim or at the coin's center.

Some men carried a large cent bearing their birthdate or the date of some significant event in their life, either loose in their pocket or suspended on a watch chain or fob, as a token of good luck.

Many large cents were elongated and counterstamped with other designs, to be used as souvenirs of a particular occasion. A large number originated at the Columbia Exposition in Chicago, in 1892, of which the author has one such example in his collection. Some fifty or so large cents were shaved or ground down on the reverse, then counterstamped with "N.E. NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION, 1949", and passed out as souvenirs by that society at a coin show which they were sponsoring. Many large cents have turned up, being secondarily engraved as love tokens or in commemoration of a birthday or special event.

It was not uncommon some fifty to a hundred years ago to place large cents on railroad tracks or interurban tracks, causing the coins to be flattened by the weight of the locomotive as it rolled over them. It has been recorded that the Lincoln and the McKinley funeral trains had difficulty in moving because of the many coins placed on the tracks by souvenir hunters of the time.

Large cents, because of their size, were appropriately used as markers or chips in various games. And "pitching pennies" is a game not exactly peculiar to our own era . . . large cents were ideal for such a purpose.

Some large cents were doubly holed at the rims, then strung on two loops of cord, so that they could be used as "humdingers." By winding the cords and seesawing the hands back and forth, the coin would spin wildly on its supports and would produce a humming noise. This was a very popular toy for youngsters in the large cent era.

The greatest majority of mutilated large cents probably were the result of capricious mischief and/or vandalism. At the time large cents were in circulation, there were no legal restrictions against the defacement of coins. Shaving off or grinding down Miss Liberty's chin to produce an Andy Gump effect may have been a whimsical caprice or it may have been a fraudulent act intended to trick a non-suspecting collector into thinking he was getting a new and rare variety. Likewise, some wag in the 1810s or 1820s may have gotten a big kick out of partially serrating large cents and then sitting back to contemplate the consternation such coins might cause as they passed along in circulation.

Another common mutilation of that era was to pound down a coin or to beat down its rims. For such a pounding, the coin was placed between thick pieces of leather, which permitted spreading or enlarging the size of the coin while still preserving the surface devices. Such a pounding would increase the diameter of a coin considerably, making it very distinctive when compared with other coins of the same denomination.

Scratching a large "X" on the coin's surface was also a common form of mutilation. Such markings often were scratched very deeply, while holding the cutting tool at a shallow angle, thereby permitting the metal to pile up on one side. This metal pile-up could then be pressed down to cover the deep gash, giving the appearance of a very heavy die break.

A fairly common and perverse custom of the large cent era was to deface the E in CENT by shaving off the top and center bars, leaving intact the upper and lower serifs on the right, thus creating an ancient Anglo-Saxon four-letter obscenity. This particular form of mutilation turns up quite frequently today and is apt to go unnoticed by the dealer. The author had one sent to him on a coin of VF condition from a very reputable dealer; and he knows of another instance where a dealer sold such a coin without realizing that it had been so defaced. The customer, on noticing the coin's reverse, promptly returned the piece and angrily demanded his money back as well as an apology for the insult.

One of the author's most unusual large cent oddities is a belt of coins made for a 27½ inch waist, consisting of two rows of twenty-two large cents each, all hooked together and to each other by copper rings. The upper row of coins has been holed at 3, 6, and 9 o'clock, while the lower row of coins has been holed at 3, 9, and 12 o'clock. Each row of coins alternates an obverse with a reverse, the upper row having an obverse surface showing a reverse surface beneath, and alternating that way for the length of the belt. The majority of the cents are fine or better, and most of the coins are of the later Late Date variety. One wonders whether the belt was ever worn or used by a sufferer from arthritis.

Three years ago the author noted an advertisement in a coin journal which offered a 1793 Wreath cent, the S-10, which had had both sides spooned in to form a cup. The coin was reported to grade VF30 if it had not been so mutilated. The author has a similar Late Date cent which has been uniformly molded to form a rounded saucer, the reverse being convex, the obverse concave. What the coin could possibly have ever been used for is completely unknown. The dealer who found the coin suggested that it might be a Lilliputian bath tub.

Another interesting use of the large cent which was turned up by the same dealer collector was two different cents, each with the reverse shaved off and large numbers stamped thereon. Undoubtedly the pieces were used to identify keys, perhaps for hotel rooms.

Another recent addition to the author's collection is a large cent which has been clipped and wedged to form a gun sight. At first it was thought that the piece may have been altered to make a circumcision instrument such as the type used by rabbis in performing ritual circumcisions. Silver dollars have long been altered for such a purpose and these finished articles very closely resemble the large cent specimen. However, after further consideration, the gun sight seems to be the more likely use for this piece.

Because no 1815 cents were ever minted, altered large cents bearing that date frequently turn up. Many are altered from the 1813 cent, others from the 1845 cent. Although such alterations may have been fraudulently committed, it was not uncommon for collectors to use such coins merely to fill out or complete a date set collection. One such piece known to the author has been shaved off on one side and engraved with "None Made in 1815." Similarly, other coins have turned up with rare dates such as 1793, 1799, 1804, and 1811 counter-stamped on common large cent varieties in the area where the date would normally appear. Such coins are known to have been used in old-time collections to fill up holes for missing varieties or dates where, for financial or other reasons, the true-dated coins were never obtained.

This article has been a mere sampling of this field, and is intended to provoke on the subject rather than to catalogue every conceivable manner in which man uses or disfigures his money. Perhaps the article will aid some collectors in recognizing particular mutilations and help them to avoid adding such specimens to their collections unwittingly or at an exorbitant price.

Certainly the large cent was used for many different purposes than the money for which it was intended.

25th Anniversary of FAO

The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations' coin plan has willed a heritage of special coinage issues to the collectors of tomorrow. The world's first cooperative coinage issue and its importance to numismatics seems to have been overlooked by the current collector. Allied with the various governmental coinage issues has been a few medals such as this product of the French Mint in Paris. 72mm in diameter, struck in both bronze and silver, and designed by Sylvain Bret. The obverse symbolizes the importance of wheat to the world. The reverse shows a closeup of grain superimposed over an outline map of Canada. Quebec, site of an FAO meeting on its anniversary date, October 16, is pinpointed. An important addition to the collections of those working on FAO. PRESIDENT'S DESK

Herbert M. Bergen President

Early in my term as president, I announced four main objectives that we would do our best to attain while I was in office. Three of these were reached in the first year. They were coin insurance, a numismatic agency established by the Treasury, and an authentication service with a takeover of ANAT. The fourth objective was to build up an Endowment Fund to the point where it would suffice to equip and place in operation the museum that was planned for our headquarters in Colorado Springs with a full-time curator in charge.

It is with great pride that this message can announce the fulfillment of the fourth objective. The board of governors, at a special meeting held in St. Louis, May 15, authorized the appointment of a curator who will commence operating the museum in Colorado Springs on September 1, 1971. Governor Richard Long was appointed to the position by unanimous vote of the board.

Although the Endowment Fund has not reached the amount of cash that was considered necessary to provide the income that is needed to operate the museum, it was the opinion of the board that a substantial sum could be realized from sale of a large part of the coins and other numismatic material donated to the Museum Fund which is not suitable for display. When the amount so realized is added to the cash total in the Endowment Fund, it would permit us to start operation of the museum with employment of a full-time curator.

As of May 31, the Endowment Fund trust account stood at $101,207.36 while the donor value of the coins, etc., in the Museum Fund stood at $101,944.31. In addition, the Endowment Fund holds 400 shares of Franklin Mint stock which has a current market value of about $16,000.

There is every reason to believe that with the museum in full operation and a curator with fine promotion capabilities in charge, many donations of coins will be made by members who have held them back until the museum was actually in full operation. More cash donations to the Museum Fund and the Endowment Fund can also be expected. Thus it seems reasonable to expect that the total needed to keep the museum in permanent operation will be attained within a year after the museum opens on September 1.

All members who have looked forward to the accomplishment of this objective are urged to make their contributions to the museum as soon as possible. The newly appointed curator, Richard Long, will be anxiously looking forward to receiving your donations and will do all he can to accommodate every donor.

MUSEUM NOTES

RICHARD A. LONG
Curator

"You can't build a reputation on what you're going to do." This statement from Henry Ford has always appealed to me because it sums up in a few short words the whole philosophy of doing things as opposed to just talking about them. I mention this because I feel that now is the time that we must stop thinking about developing our ANA Museum as something we want to do some day — as of today we are doing it. Cases are being planned and built, and our collections are being carefully sorted and catalogued. Last month we spoke of the goals of your museum; now let's see how you can be an active partner in its development.

Your museum needs help in acquiring two things: choice display and reference specimens and money. First let's talk about the choice pieces we will need. We are building our collections of U.S. and world numismatic items in the best condition, but there are many blank spots because potential donors have hesitated in the past, not wanting their collections to reside in a vault. You'll be glad to hear that those days are over, and that in just a few weeks we will begin to set up displays.

Now here is where we need your help. Many coins are worth only a few dollars in brilliant uncirculated condition; yet we have only a very fine piece or none at all. Remember that our collection will not consist only of rarities, and that we need BU examples of all the lesser pieces as well. If you're a collector, perhaps you would like the satisfaction of knowing that some of your choicest pieces will reside in a beautiful collection that can be enjoyed by everyone.

Or perhaps you're a dealer, and the next time you purchase a little group of ten pieces of a $5 or $10 coin, you'll take a few minutes to pick out a choice little gem and send it to us for our collection. Maybe you'd like to keep us current in your specialty. Several years ago a dealer in Israel coins began sending us one of each new piece as it was issued. For just a few dollars a year she has the satisfaction of knowing that her specialty will always be completely represented and will be available for display and study.

Today is a good day to begin building your reputation as a person who gets things done, and we'll be glad to receive your tax-deductible contribution of coins for our collection, or your check, sent to ANA Museum, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colorado 80901. Wouldn't you like to be counted as one of the original donors who helped to develop the beautiful ANA Museum in 1971?

CENTURY OLD NOTES

A Boston newspaper says, "There should be a copper company at work on Half-way Rock, between Boston and Gloucester, where generations of fisherman have thrown lucky pennies on the outward voyages, to insure a full fare and a safe trip. Its veins are full of copper and nickel cents, from the earliest issues down to the coinage of to-day. This operation is on as solid a basis as any in Wall Street." — Mason's Coin and Stamp Collectors' Magazine, 1871.

IT HAS been traditional through the ages for sea-going people to spend recklessly the hard gotten gains of their months at sea or to secrete their treasures to a later day. In times of stress this has been an even more forceful thing. It seems that it was so to one fresh off a Phoenician ship in the days just before Alexander the Great advanced on Tyre.

In the late autumn days of 1966, a wanderer on the beaches near present day Beirut, slightly north of ancient Tyre, unearthed a small hoard of coins dating back into Phoenician days. All small, mostly 1/48 and 1/24 staters, all were dated before Alexander, with the latest about 335 B.C.

The story is well known of how Alexander in the year 332 B.C. called on ancient Tyre to surrender to his so-far invincible forces. That proud city, a bulwark of the Persian Empire and home port of the most daring merchants and sailors of ancient times, refused to capitulate and proceeded to entrench in its island fortress. Other Persian seaports, among them Byblus and Sidon, greeted Alexander with gifts. Tyre, the most powerful of the Phoenician cities, decided to resist.

Alexander knew that the Persian fleet could be reduced to ineffectiveness if all of the Phoenician coast towns could be reduced. He did not care to march into the great Persian Empire with a hostile fleet at his back. Tyre, the only city of any stature which resisted, must be reduced.

Old Tyre stood on the mainland and could be reduced easily. New Tyre, situated on a long and narrow island about half a mile from the coast, was another matter. The island

This small hoard of coins was acquired by the author after its discovery in 1966, studied, and has been exhibited several times. It has also been the subject of several lectures, but this is the first publication of the hoard. Its importance in establishing a route is recognized by authorities working in the marine archaeology field, such as Dr. Michael Katsev. The discovery points out one more function of numismatic studies.

itself was encircled by a strongly built stone wall whose base was unapproachable by reason of vast amounts of loose rubble. This island defense could not be reduced with siege machines.

Alexander displayed the ingenuity which made him a world conqueror by not trying to reduce the island with naval force but used the brute strength of untold thousands of people in constructing a 200 foot wide mole from shore out to the island. He converted a naval problem into an army problem. The people of Tyre fought valorously from January to August, 332 B.C., several times wrecking the labor of weeks by burning the timbers forming part of the mole. Finally, however, Alexander managed to place his siege machines in effective position to breach the walls, after which his troops poured into the city to wreak havoc on both the city and its inhabitants. Thousands were killed or sold into slavery, the only mercy being shown to those who sought refuge in the Temple of Herakles. Tyre never again regained its former glory.

Distribution of dates in the hoard indicates that it was buried just before or after the conquest of Tyre. Inasmuch as the coins are from coast towns from Tyre to Cyzicus, it seems evident that these were collected by someone who travelled on one of the coast vessels of the day. As the coins are all small, none exceeding 1/12 stater, and the hoard is not large, it is probable that the owner was not an affluent sea-going merchant but perhaps a sub-officer or sailor on a Phoenician trading ship.

The whole hoard totalled 33 coins, 12 of which were from Tyre, 7 from Sidon, 5 from Byblos, and the rest from Erythrae, Cyprus, Miletus, Samos, Aradus and Cyzicus. Variation in weight and specific gravity is considerable, especially in the case of Tyre. One of the Tyre pieces is plated and several are bronze, as can be ascertained easily by a specific gravity examination. It is probable that the plating was done in an official mint, inasmuch as it does not seem practical to counterfeit such small pieces profitably. A number of plated pieces are also in the possession of the British Museum. Small bronze denominations are not listed in the British Museum collection. Inasmuch as these are struck, they do not appear to be the cores for plated coins but were evidently intended to be struck in bronze.

The Byblos coins, as I have observed with other coins outside this hoard, are very brittle and break easily. Four of the hoard coins were broken. To determine why these should be so sensitive to ordinary handling, the metal in these coins was spectrographically analyzed and found to have the following composition:

Silver	95%
Copper	4.5%
Silicon	.1 - .2%
Lead	.1 - .2%
Bismuth	.3%

copper in thin structure is far more brittle than pure silver.

The table describes each coin with all technical data, country of origin and references.

The evidence of this hoard indicates that the owner of the coins travelled on a coastal ship trading as far as the Propontus. Seldom did the ship go out of the sight of land, the farthest at sea being in the run from Cyprus to Byblos. The most northerly port was in the Propontus, at Cyzicus.

Then came the run through the Hellespont past the ancient site of Troy in the Troad and around the island of Lesbos to Erythrae, on the Ionian coast opposite Chios. From Chios the route led to the island of Samos and then to Miletus. The Sicyon coin probably was obtained in the market place at Miletus, one of the most active trading cities of the day. Miletus traded heavily with the Euxine and Aegean areas and, in fact, was responsible for establishing trading posts and colonies in the more northern areas.

The journey then led down the Carian coast and the dangerous pass between Halicarnassus and the island of Cos, where several ancient ships have been discovered at the bottom of the sea and are now being examined. Several stops were probably made in the "bottom hump" area of Lycia. Although no coins in the hoard indicate this, the ship probably rounded the old Cape of Gelidonya Burum in beating up to Side and down the coast to Cyprus. This route had been used for hundreds of years, as evidenced by discovery in 1959 of one of the oldest shipwrecks ever found, a bronze age ship of 23 centuries ago.

What stories these small bits of metal could tell!

National Coin Week "Hardwork for All Judges"

Chairman Lee Martin, top right, displays some of the 1971 NCW entries. Awards will be presented at Washington.

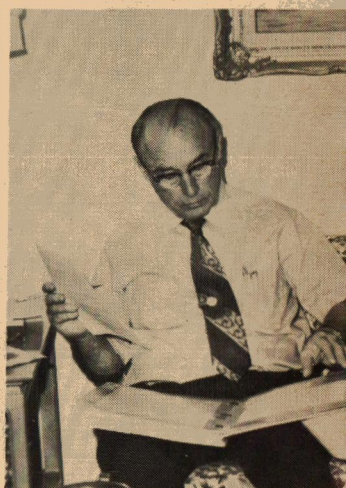

Peggy Borgolte, representing the distaff side, awards points for individual efforts.

New Categories Increase List of NCW Winning Entries

The National Coin Week Committee completed judging of the entrants on May 31. The judging committee composed of Lee Martin, chairman, Peggy Borgolte, William Wisslead, Birt Slater, Maurice Gould and Gordon Greene were unanimous in their approval of the high quality of scrapbooks in all categories.

CLASS A — Clubs 100 or more members: 1st — Amarillo Coin Club; 2nd — Pottstown Coin Club; and 3rd — Indianapolis Coin Club.

CLASS B — Clubs 50 to 99 members: 1st — Erie County Coin Club; 2nd — Inland Empire Coin Club; and 3rd — Totem Coin Club.

CLASS C — 49 or less members: 1st — Fresno Numismatic Society; 2nd — Owatonna Coin Club; and 3rd — Oregon Trail Coin Club.

CLASS D1 — Individuals — Large cities, new classification: 1st — E. Taylor Duncan; and 2nd — David Hakes.

CLASS D — Individuals in cities under 100,000 population: 1st — Mrs. Kenneth Hershberger; 2nd — Mrs. Sandy Suter; and 3rd — J. J. Ondishko.

CLASS J — Junior: 1st — Timothy Saultz.

CLASS X — Clubs not in United States: 1st — Truro Coin Club.

CLASS Y — Individuals not in United States: 1st — Professor H. D. Allen.

A limited number of entries in some divisions prevented the awarding of prizes, but those receiving first were undoubtedly tops in the combination of effort and inspiration. Prize winning scrapbooks and plaques to be awarded will be on display in Washington, D.C. during the ANA convention August 9 to 14.

National Coin Week 1971 ran from April 18 through 24 and indicates that a large number of individuals and coin clubs utilized the month of April for a meeting of distinction. First place plaques will have a complete set of National Coin Week elongateds as an added bonus. The design used on cents used to advertise the week has been placed on a nickel, dime, quarter and half dollar and a total mintage of 17 sets will make these valued by all who receive them. Second and third place winners will receive a presentation denomination set in addition to plaques.

The committee made a list of suggestions which may assist future judging groups during and prior to the activities of National Coin Week. Birt Slater was responsible for the subject theme, "Numismatics, Hobby of All Ages." This theme was utilized and gave entrants a wide range to gear their activities and scrapbooks.

The hours spent by the committee in judging the entrants were an insight into the scope of the hobby and all entrants are to be congratulated for the effort expended.

Certificates for those who were active in National Coin Week will be forwarded in the near future. Chairman, Lee Martin, wishes to thank members of the news media and all hobbyists who were instrumental in the fine publicity given National Coin Week.

LIBRARY REPORT

Rubles of Peter the Great Again on ANA Reprint List

Perhaps the largest single influence toward Russian progress was during the reign of Peter the Great (1682-1725). Powerful enough to establish major seaports on the Black and Baltic Seas giving Russia her western world windows, he also established a police force, regulated taxation, divided the country gubernatorially, and promoted industry and change. His objective was to free Russia from the "old way of life." In striving for this goal, Peter learned and adopted many of the customs and industrial concepts being used then in western Europe.

Included in his revolutionary reforms was the introduction of a regular coinage. Prior to this time, the czars of Moscow coined only the archaic denga (half kopeck) and kopeck. Both were of a very crude and irregular fabric with uncertain metal fineness.

Peter established uniform coinage in all metals. There was never an abrupt change in Peter's coins; rather a gradual improvement during his reign. The first of the "Peter the Great" rubles were coined in 1704 and no earlier ones exist. No rubles were known to Russian numismatists of the old times, who for a century and a half combed the country for any possible varieties.

In his two-part reprint from The Numismatist, A. E. Kelpsh illustrates 20 ruble specimens depicting Peter the Great with complete coin descriptions. There is also a four-page synopsis of this famous Russian ruler.

In an interesting foreword of the various successors of Peter the Great in part two of this reprint, Kelpsh once again monographically documents over 30 examples of the ruble from 1725-1801. This article is also accompanied with a foreword and these historical accounts of Peter's successors make a significant contribution to the coin listings.

This reprint is available for $1.00 by writing ANA Librarian, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colorado 80901.

NEW & RECENT ISSUES

by Ernst Kraus, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Room 939 (include room number in address), 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N.Y. 10001. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

Austria

Maria Theresa, "the universal mother of Austria," is well known to numismatists by virtue of the Maria Theresa taler, the trade coin still being struck and bearing the date 1780. Her early years in power were filled with war and intrigue and to her credit her later years were much more productive as she inaugurated many reforms — not the least was the easing of the burden placed upon the serfs through social reforms. Equal attention was given to mercantilistic ideas thus stimulating the economic wealth of the nation. Among the innovations was the founding of the Wiener Bourse (stock exchange) in 1771. This year marks the 200th anniversary of its establishment and a 25 schilling commemorative coin has been struck for the occasion.

Y- . 25 schilling, 1971. Silver (.800). Obverse: The Vienna Bourse in center; designer's name in fine type below, TIEFENTHALER; legend at top, WIENER BORSE; at bottom the monogram MT for Maria Theresa and the dates 1771-

Bahamas

The self-governing British Bahama Islands lie but 50 miles off the coast of Florida. They made numismatic history when a set of nine new coins were designed by the Royal academician, Arnold Machin, and struck by the Royal Mint in London to introduce the conversion of currency to the decimal system in 1966. The coins were among the most beautiful of the British commonwealth. After four years of continuous issue one small change was noted in 1970. The one-cent piece was reduced in both size and weight primarily for reasons of economy.

Y- . 1 cent, 1970. Nickel-brass. Obverse: Portrait of the queen to right; legend around, ELIZABETH II BAHAMA ISLANDS. Reverse: Starfish in center; value at top, ONE CENT and at bottom the date 1970. Edge: plain. Diameter 19mm. Weight 2.5 grams.

The original issue, 1966 through 1969, was 22.5mm in diameter and weighed 4.2 grams.

Greece

The phoenix is a mythological bird connected with the worship of the sun in classical antiquity. It is said to be as large as an eagle, with gold and scarlet plummage: Only one phoenix is said to exist at one time with a life span reported to be from 500 years to 1,461 years. As its end approaches the bird fashions a nest of aromatic boughs and spices, sets it on fire, and is consumed in the flames. From the pyre springs forth a new phoenix. Quite naturally the legend of the phoenix lends itself to rebirth of nations and cities, especially after disastrous fires with the latter. It now finds itself an unlikely representation of the "rebirth" of modern Greece following the 1967 military junta that overthrew the democratic government of King Constantine, now exiled in Italy. Commemorative coins, in silver and gold, have been issued in 1970 bearing the phoenix and carrying the date 1967 to represent the overthrow of government.

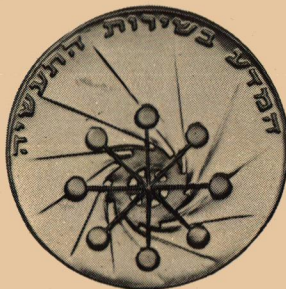

Y-54. 50 drachmai, 1967. Silver. Obverse: Crowned arms in center; value below; legend around, in Greek letters, ΒΑΣΙΛΕΙΟΝ ΤΗΣ ΕΛΛΑΔΟΣ (Kingdom of the Hellenic People). Reverse: The new born phoenix rising from the flames of its father, a soldier, representing the new military government, in the foreground. Designer's name at right; date in Greek below (21 April / 1967). Edge milled. Diameter 29.6mm. Weight 12 grams.

Y-55. 100 drachmai, 1967. Silver. Similar to preceding except for size and value. Edge milled. Diameter 37.5mm. Weight 24.45 grams.

Israel

Late World Coin News, The Numismatist, May p. 687, carried a full description and background of the 23rd anniversary of independence commemorative issue for the state of Israel. This annual edition by the Bank of Israel is perhaps one of the most outstanding examples of competitive coinage art of modern times and eagerly sought after by collectors the world over.

Y- . 10 Israeli pounds or lirot, 1971. Silver (.900). Obverse: On the upper rim, towards the left, appears the motto of the coin in Hebrew, "Science in the Service of Industry;" on the field is a representation of a cog-wheel rotating a molecule; the impression of motion is conveyed by placing the motif offcenter. Reverse: In the center, a stylized design of an atomic reactor building at Nahal Sorek; above this, the face value of the coin, "10 Israel Lirot;" on the exergue, the year 1971 and its equivalent in Hebrew; below the word, ISRAEL in English to right, Hebrew in center and Arabic at left. Edge: Inscribed in Hebrew, "23rd year of the State of Israel." Diameter 37mm. Weight 26 grams.

Obverse was designed by Jacob Zim and the reverse by Shlomo Rotem. 30,000 uncirculated specimens were struck at the Utrecht Mint in Holland; 22,500 uncirculated specimens, mintmarked with the six pointed Star of David, were struck at the government mint in Jerusalem; and 17,500 proof specimens marked with a small "Mem" were struck at the Utrecht Mint.

Portugal

The student in years to come will find a careful documentation of the current inflationary problems faced by most governments of the world today. This documentation will be found best in modern coinage as equivalent denominations are replaced with baser and cheaper metals and these in turn must even be reduced in size. Take for example Portugal's 10 centavo coin, its lowest denomination in circulation. From 1942 through 1969 it was issued in bronze, 18mm in diameter. No longer economically feasible to produce in either this metal or size (the coin is equivalent to one-third of a U. S. cent), it is being replaced by an aluminum issue only 15mm in diameter.

Struck at the Lisbon Mint.

Ras al Khaima

In 1969 the British government helped to found the Federation of Arab Emirates. This federation would link Bahrain and Qatar with the Persian Gulf states of Abu Dhabi, Ajman, Dubai, Fujairah, Ras al Khaima, Sharjah and Umm al Qaiwain. Abu Dhabi was to serve as the provisional capital for two years and agreements were to be reached about a common defense and a common currency. In the past two years, with the aid of numismatic promoters, just the opposite has been accomplished in regards to a common currency. The success of Sharjah with its President John F. Kennedy commemorative has been emulated and the slightest excuse is reason enough for a new coinage issue by any one of the sheikhdoms, and far more likely to be found at selected dealer bourses than in actual circulation in the country.

Y-. 50 dirhams, 1970. Cupro-nickel. Obverse: In the center, a falcon on a tree stump, within a circle; value in English below, 50 DIRHAMS; dates at top, 1970-1390 (AH). Reverse: Arabic value in center within circle; English legend below, GOVERNMENT OF RAS AL KHAIMA; repeated in Arabic above.

Edge milled. Diameter 25mm. Weight 6 grams.

Y- . 2½ riyals, 1970. Silver. Obverse: Portrait of ruler within center circle; Gregorian and Mohammedan dates below, 1970-1390 (AH); Arabic legend above. Reverse: Falcon on a tree stump within circle; English legend below, GOVERNMENT OF RAS AL KHAIMA; value at top in English and Arabic, 2½ RIYALS. Edge milled. Diameter 26mm. Weight 7 grams.

Y- . 7½ riyals, 1970. Silver. Similar to preceding except for size and value. Edge milled. Diameter 38.5mm. Weight 22 grams.

United Arab Republic

President Gamal Abd-al-Nasser's sudden death on September 28, 1970, threw Egypt into deep shock. His successor, Anwar al-Sadat, made every effort to insure continuity and was successful in the more important fields. Numismatically speaking, commemorative coins honoring the man who had led the country for the past 18 years took precedence over planned issues. These latter pieces are now seeing circulation.

Y-131. 5 piastres, 1969. Cupro-nickel. Obverse: Two forearms with wrench in hands within a wreath in center; Mohammedan date, 1389, and Gregorian date, 1969, above and below stems of wreath, both in Arabic. Reverse: Value in center, 5 guerch; Arabic legend above, United Arab Republic; below is reference to the Handcraft Fair held in 1969. Edge milled. Diameter 25mm. Weight 4.5 grams.

Y-132. 10 piastres, 1970. Cupro-nickel. Obverse: The Bank of Egypt (Misr Bank) is shown in center with rising sun behind; in Arabic legend, In Commemoration of the 50th Anniversary of the Founding of the Misr Bank. numismatic vignettes

● Numismatics, as well as politics, makes strange bedfellows. It is reported that, at the St. Louis convention, the president of the Elongated Coin Collectors and the president of the Int'l. Organization of Wooden Money Collectors were married. Knowing what you are thinking, it is not necessary for me to say it.

● Is a new field of paper money collecting being overlooked? The Bureau of Engraving and Printing produces coupons (a recent newspaper editorial called them "Agri-Money") for the Department of Agriculture which passes them along to certain persons (some 8 million) who use them for buying food. The grocer deposits them in his bank and receives in return the more conventional type of "money." These coupons are said to be "non-transferable" but you can see that they are negotiable money nevertheless.

● There is a beautiful silver marriage medal by "O. Roty, 1895," this name and date appearing in tiny letters and figures in a part of the design. The only word on the medal, in the exergue in about one-eighth inch letters, is SEMPER. The reverse is mostly blank to allow for inscribing the names and date. I saw one recently in an envelope on which was written, "silver award medal by Semper, not inscribed." Everyone should know a little Latin!

● A back copy of The Numismatist states that "Scientists working on the atomic have come forth with the startling information that a United States silver ten cent piece weighs 'about 2.5 million micrograms.'" A recent issue of Newsweek had an article about a new technique for making astronomical observations. It has permitted confirming an earlier calculation that the giant star Betelgeuse has a diameter of 500 million miles. Aren't you glad to know!—GLENN S.

FEATURING FAKES

DO YOU HAVE THE ORIGINAL?

Let me give you the letter accompanying the above Chinese "coin" which arrived by registered airmail, bearing $2.25 postage . . . which is two-bits more than I think the piece is worth!

"Dear Mr. Hancock:

"The enclosed 1927 Chinese silver dollar of Sun Yat Sen, with Mausoleum reverse, has been offered to me for $800.00, so will you kindly authenticate it for me?

"The seller tells me that he had acquired this coin from a collector who had lived many years in Shanghai, China, and the coin was bought over there many years ago.

"This dollar was supposed to have a mintage of only 400, according to a Shanghai mint report that the collector had seen.

"I have an option of only two weeks to buy or return this coin to the seller, so please give me your report of findings before then. Thank you very much.

"Very truly yours,"

Supposedly it was a Kann No. 609, made in the 16th year of the Republic of China (1927 AD). On the reverse, to your right is shown Dr. Sun's mausoleum, to your left is the setting sun, and at the bottom, reading from your right to your left, "Shih-liu-nien-tsao" (ten-six-year-made).

Kann writes that the Nan-king mint struck 480 essay coins on the Vienna-made master dies. But this isn't one of them!

It's entirely possible that this fake really was sold in China 25 or 30 years ago to some unsuspecting collector, but it was a fake then. The age of a counterfeit doesn't transform it into a genuine coin. This one, by the way, is not a cast counterfeit, but is a fake struck with counterfeit dies.

At the bottom of the opposite page you see another die-struck silver counterfeit of another Chinese dollar . . . Kann 688 . . . dated "Republic of China" 17th year.

This was sold as a 1928 pattern of Chang Tso-lin who unexpectedly, via a Japanese bomb in June of that same year, left his successful military career as generalissimo of all China's armed forces.

Like Mexico's Pancho Villa, Gen. Chang started his career as a bandit leader. It could be that his rise to the top spot in the chaotic China of those years simply meant that he was the biggest bandit of all the war lords.

In any case, a comparison between the workmanship of the fake Kann 609 and of the fake Kann 688 makes me believe that the counterfeit dies for both pieces were engraved by the same engraver. And, further, I think that the engraver had done previous engraving only on dies for medals, that he'd never engraved dies for coins.

Counterfeit concoctions of Ancient China's cast copper and bronze holed coinage have been sold to the tourist in The Orient for the past 90 years, and these things still pop up regularly in USA collections.

At the top of this page is a copper concoction purported to be a Wang Mang piece of about 10 AD, the "Chuang-ch'un-ssu-shih" (Schjoth 142-b), with "heads" on both sides.

And, at the bottom of this page, is seen one widely sold counterfeit bronze "Ta-yuan-t'ung-pao" of one of Kublai-Khan's successors, China's Mongol Emperor Chih-ya, 1310 AD (Schjoth 1099).

Had ANA's certification service been in operation, the prospective buyer of those four pieces would have demanded a registered certificate of authentication . . . which the would-be seller couldn't have produced . . . and that would have been the end of it.

Little Greenbacks

A GUIDE BOOK OF MODERN UNITED STATES CURRENCY by Neil Shafer. 5th edition, 1971. 160 pp. Illustrated. Hard cover. Whitman Hobby Division, 1220 Mound Ave., Racine, Wis. 53404. $2.50.

Packaging, I'm told, is an important factor in modern merchandising. Evidently Whitman believes this to be true from the appearance of the cover of its fifth edition of A Guide Book of Modern United States Currency, recently released. The entirely new cover is red, white and blue, top to bottom, with a reproduction of an eagle vignette on the white section. Ironically, this vignette was taken from a pre-Civil War bank note to embellish the cover of a modern paper money book.

The inside of the new edition has some innovations, too, although its coverage is still all modern size U. S. paper money from series 1928 to date. The previously used (?) numbering system has been discontinued because the subject notes are all identifiable by type and series date. The space thus released is for use by the collector for a check list of the notes he owns.

Star notes being quite popular among collectors, the pricing of them in many series has been added and some previously unpublished figures on the number of them printed are included. Collectors are likely to be surprised to find that most regular United States Notes and Silver Certificates are priced lower than in the previous edition. In general, notes of other types show rather few changes in prices, with the exception of National Bank Notes which are up. This reviewer likes to believe that this trend is due to the publication a year ago, by the Society of Paper Money Collectors, of a specialized book on small size National Bank Notes.

The section on U. S. Military Payment Certificates, introduced in the previous edition, shows this to be a popular series. As usually happens when something new catches the fancy of collectors, prices in this series have advanced. These certificates have been issued in thirteen series, in eight denominations from 5c to $20 (not all values in all series), were produced by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing during the last ten years, are generally artistic and colorful — these are reasons for their popularity. They are well illustrated and priced in several conditions in this 36-page section.

Even though rising production costs pushed the price of the fifth edition up 50c to $2.50, it is still a good buy for anyone even mildly interested in the subject material. In addition to being a price catalogue, it contains much pertinent and background information useful to collectors and students of our modern paper money. Available from most coin dealers, book stores and hobby shops. — Glenn S.

The Importance of a Name

CALIFORNIA TRADE TOKEN PLACE NAMES by Duane H. Feisel and Stephen Album. 1971. 42 pp. 3 pl. Spiral bound, paper cover. Duane H. Feisel, Box 11661, Palo Alto, Calif. 94306. $3.50.

A listing of 974 places in California for which trade tokens are known. In addition there is information for each place on the number of known tokens, the overall rarity of tokens, and various characteristics of known tokens. The data provided is a distillation of a more indepth endeavor by authors to catalogue in detail the trade tokens of California.

One popular form of collecting is by places and this compilation is invaluable for the collector interested in California, a state that draws the most exnumia buffs. Additions and revisions to the listings will be carried in the newsletter of the California Token Society, a recently organized group.

Included in the booklet are rubbings of 51 rare California merchant tokens. — PR.

Continuing Effort

SYLLOGE OF COINS OF THE BRITISH ISLES by Georg Galster. Part III. The Royal Danish Collection, Copenhagen. 158 pl. 1970. All quarto, cloth bound. Published jointly with the Carlsberg Foundation. 3 vols. Oxford University Press, 200 Madison Ave., N. Y. 10016. $22.00 each.

This catalogue of the Danish Royal Collection covers the Anglo-Saxon coins of King Cnut. It is the most recent offering of the Sylloge of Coins of the British Isles series published by the British Academy. The standard work on Anglo-Saxon coins referred to by Galster is Hildebrand's catalogue, in Swedish, of Anglo-Saxon coins in the Swedish Royal Collection (1881).

In three volumes of 158 plated, Galster arranges the coins alphabetically by mints, from Axbidge to Winchester. For each plate there is a descriptive table giving details of weight, die axis, moneyer, and Hildebrand's attribution. There is also an index of mints and an index of moneyers.

As in all the Sylloge volumes, Galster's scholarship is flawless; plates are of excellent quality and form the bulk of the work. — Anne McNair.

Crowning Effort

CROWNS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE by Richard J. Trowbridge. 2nd edition. 170 pp. Illustrated. Hard cover. Krause Publications, Iola, Wis. 54945. $5.00.

Trowbridge's Crowns of the British Empire is a second edition effort which has been carefully revised and refined by both author and publisher. Over 230 high quality halftone reproductions enhance the new issue. All coin types are illustrated.

The scope of this work covers the period from the minting of the first British crown — the hand struck Edward VI issue of 1551 — down to the present. Crowns issued in the name of member states of the British empire are also included.

The catalogue, with numbers assigned, is arranged in the order of the reigning dates of the British monarchs, with each of these groupings introduced by short resumes of the reign and its crown issues. The listings which follow are fully described as to obverse, reverse and edge designs, complete with translations.

Individual dates and mintmarks or other varieties of issue are listed and numbered, complete with valuations; generally in three grades, depending upon condition, and rarity ratings in the case of rare issues. Mintage figures are given where available, and pertinent notes relating to the availability of specific issues are appended. — PR.

Books Received

The inclusion of a book in this list does not preclude us from publishing a review at a later date. Far too many new books are received monthly to review immediately and we do not wish to deprive our members of the knowledge of their availability.

NAMEPLATE

PENDANT

38mm, uniface, gilt or silver and looped. A bust of Benjamin Franklin is shown facing left and with a branch of laurel on either side. Below the bust are the dates, 1891-1941, the founding and 50th Anniversary years of the ANA. An inscription above and around a decorative border reads, ★ AMERICAN • NUMISMATIC • ASSOCIATION ★, and below, 50TH ANNIVERSARY. Note the design, proportion and positioning differences of the devices when comparing the badge pendant to the obverse of the official medal issue. In particular notice the absence of the ANA seal, dates arching in opposite direction, bust lowered, straight and smaller laurel branches, larger stars and larger lettering in upper inscription.

The two preliminary sketches illustrated here are indeed interesting when comparing them to the final product. The initial drawing is near the likeness of the badge pendant while the final drawing is an exact likeness of the official medal.

Another medal was issued during the convention, it commemorated the completion of the 50-year Index to The Numismatist and was presented to those who prepared the index. This issue will be covered, at a later date, along with other award pieces and related issues.

THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Special Treasury Exhibits To Highlight ANA Convention

Mrs. Mary T. Brooks, director of the Mint, is planning a special mint exhibit at the ANA's 80th anniversary convention, to be held Aug. 10-14 at the Washington Hilton Hotel, in the nation's capital. This will be the first time the mint has had a major exhibit at an ANA convention.

Mrs. Brooks has disclosed, through convention general chairman Herbert W. Price, Jr., that a highlight of the display will be the old hand-operated press used for the first striking of United States silver coins for regular circulation.

This press has been preserved through the years, and will be brought to Washington from the United States Mint in Philadelphia, where it is normally on display.

It had been hoped that special medallic mementoes might be struck on this press, but some of the wooden segments have splintered, and steady use was deemed too risky.

Instead, a souvenir piece will be reproduced by the Philadelphia Mint, and made available to convention visitors at a nominal cost.

This medallic memento of the convention will relate to Washington. The actual design and metal to be used, the size, and the cost will be announced by Mrs. Brooks just prior to the convention.

It is known that Frank Gasparro, chief sculptor of the mint, is designing the memento, and it is expected he will be present at the mint's display.

The backdrop of the exhibit area will be dominated by a blowup of John Dunsmore's oil painting, executed in 1914, showing Martha Washington, lorgnette in hand, sitting before a tray of silver coins held by Henry Voight, who later was appointed the first chief coiner (see The Numismatist, May 1971, p. 685).

In addition, the Bureau of the Mint's display will embrace silver coins from an original Washington half dollar to the "silver" Eisenhower dollar. If security permits, original Eisenhower galvanos will be shown, along with Gasparro's sketches, and there will be pamphlets available to those viewing the display.

Mrs. Brooks' office, furnished with items of the late 19th century from the San Francisco Mint, will be open to conventioners whenever practical, and she has indicated her hope she will be able to receive many of those visiting Washington for the affair.

The Bureau of the Mint's new exhibit and sales room on the first floor of the Treasury building, adjacent to Treasury's own display, will be open in time for the convention. Medals and coins, and other items, will be on exhibit, and available specimens will be on sale.

Treasury's exhibit, telling the story of that department and its bureaus via voice and lights, will also be open to collectors. It, too, is located on the first floor, with an entrance on East Executive Avenue, across from the White House, behind a large Liberty Bell.

Bureau of Engraving and Printing

James A. Conlon, director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, has authorized exceptional cooperation with the Washington convention committee.

The bureau is setting up a printing press which will be in operation during the five days, with two printers present at all times. The press will run off $1.00 Federal Reserve Notes for demonstration purposes.

In addition, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing will have available a souvenir card featuring the $1.00 Educational Note (Silver Certificate) of 1896.

This particular note shows History instructing youth; to the right the Constitution; in the background the Washington Monument and the Capitol, and, around the borders, the names of great Americans in wreaths.

Heads of Martha and George Washington appear on the reverse, separated by a large "1." Other notes in this striking, and very popular, set were the $2, $5, and $10.

Copies of the souvenir card, with appropriate wording, will be available at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing's display at the convention at $1.00 apiece.

Collectors unable to visit Washington at that time may send their orders, after Aug. 16, to the Office Services Branch, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington, D.C. 20226. Orders are limited to not more than five per customer.

Based upon the volume of orders received for previous cards, a delay of as much as one month may be anticipated for filling some of the requests.

Other Exhibits

Lewis J. King, Jr., chief sculptor for the Institute of Heraldry, U. S. Army, will be at the convention demonstrating medallic art. This is especially appropriate, since he is the sculptor of the convention medal, designed by Brent H. Hughes.

Lewis J. King, Jr.
Institute of Heraldry

Philadelphia born, he was educated at the School of Industrial Art there, and also at American University in Washington, D.C., Maryland University and the Corcoran Art School. He has privately designed medals for the National Commemorative Society, the American Negro Commemorative Society, and the Chase Commemorative Society.

Dr. V. Clain-Stefanelli, curator of the Smithsonian Institution's fabulous numismatic holdings, and convention exhibits chairman, has gathered a remarkable grouping of non-competitive exhibits for the convention.

The London Mint will base its special display on 1200 years of English coinage; the Reserve Bank of New Zealand has enlisted to cooperation of the Numismatic Society of New Zealand is preparing its exhibit, and the Bank of Canada (Maj. Sheldon S.

Carroll, curator) will have five cases devoted to Canadian coins and paper money of the past 300 years, and a special display of Hitler counterfeits of English paper money.

Extensive exhibits are also to be set up by the Paris Mint, the Rome Mint, the Deutsche Bundesbank, the Republic of South Africa, and Finland.

Three panels of Israel commemorative coins, mint sets and state medals will be shown by the Israel Government Coins & Medals Corp. (Ephraim Levy, director for North America); Stabilimento Stefano Johnson, S.p.A. (Dr. Cesare Johnson), one of the oldest firms in the medallic art field, going back to the 18th century, from Milan, will be represented by 3 cases of medals, and Dr. Mihaly Kupa of Budapest will have a special exhibit relating to the world's latest inflation money (Hungary) and State Treasury types of notes.

There is also to be a special showing of winning models in annual competitions sponsored by Gore and Zucchi of Italy, medallists and producers of private coins.

The Franklin Mint is to preview an exciting 33-foot display at the convention, according to Joseph M. Segel, president. Details will be announced, probably, just prior to convention time.

The Franklin Mint is also to utilize the Military Room, just off the bourse and exhibit areas, throughout the convention. All issues of The Franklin Mint will be on display. It is planned to utilize a part of this room to present preview showings of a new Franklin Mint film, which will succeed the award-winning "The Ultimate Achievement."

Another special attraction planned for the Military Room is "The Many Dimensions of The Franklin Mint," devoted to oil paintings, watercolors, sculpture, photographs, etc., done by its personnel.

Leonard H. Finn will have an impressive display of early American Bank Notes, including a 1690 note from Massachusetts and a New York note of 1709; Eric Newman will share his extraordinary numismatic material through a special display, and Chief Judge J. Roy Pennell, Jr., will exhibit portions of his South Carolina paper money collection on a non-competitive basis.

Ruth Moskovitz will be one of the largest exhibitors, with 15 cases devoted to the history of the United States in coins; N. Neil Harris, assistant historian, is to have 8 cases of convention badges and medals of the American Numismatic Association, and Dr. George J. Fuld will be represented by 5 cases devoted to Coins on Stamps.

The University of Illinois Museum (Adm. O. H. Dodson, Director) will exhibit African Trade Beads — from Money to Ornament; the Sacramento Valley Coin Club (Vincent Beretta) is to show "Collecting Sacramento," and noted medallic designer and sculptor Paul Vimcze will display coins and medals.

Collectors of Art Medals, Inc. (CAM) will be represented by a long exhibit, possibly 40 ft.; ANA governor Eldridge G. Jones will have 10 varying-sized cases devoted to gold scales and historical bank items, and the 99 Company will have a single case showing of its "Certified Coins."

Herbert W. Price, Jr.
General Chairman

Convention registration chairmen James and Mildred Payne will show "Famous Engravers of Yesteryear."

A non-competitive exhibit of especial interest will be "Science in Numismatics," prepared by Edwin V. Quagliana, noted scientist and researcher of Rochester, N. Y.

Other non-competitive exhibitors listed by Dr. V. Clain-Stefanelli, are: Mrs. Carol Cristaldi (no subject indicated); E. J. Demas, Silver Dollar Flown Over North & South Poles; Fred W. Gadjen, "Our American Heritage" (History in the making as narrated on a one dollar bill), and Harold J. Ichilian, Shakespeare.

Also: Edwin P. Janzen, Chinese Numismatics with a Clifford Hewitt Chop; Thomas Alvin Norris III, Japan Type 1870-1970 and Japan pre-Meiji and Occupation Issues, and Frank O'Sullivan, Medals of Hemis-Fair '68.

There is also to be a special exhibit by The Judaic Heritage Society of New York.

Smithsonian Institution

Dr. and Mrs. V. Clain-Stefanelli have arranged a special ANA convention display, to be set up in the Constitution Avenue lobby of the Museum of History and Technology, between 12th and 14th streets, N.W. The exhibit, which will be available for viewing from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, will be a medley, in a sense, with characteristic items covering numismatic endeavors.

And, the new U. S. Postal Service is to have a special ANA convention week display of Coins on Stamps in its Philatelic Exhibition Room, street level, 12th street off Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W. The collection was formed by Ben Douglas, an assistant general chairman for the convention.

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount authorized the week-long showing as another manifestation of Postal Service cooperation with numismatists. Stanley Hodziewich is curator of the postal philatelic exhibition room, and is assisted by Miss Virginia Wiman.

Banquet

Col. Arnald D. Gabriel
USAFA Band

As usual, the reception and dinner climaxes the annual ANA convention. This years' gala will be held Saturday, August 14 in the Washington Hilton's International Ballroom Center.

The menu calls for Chilled Pineapple in Cointreau; Broiled Filet Mignon, Truffles & Mushroom Sauce, Pommes Duchesse and Stringbeans Amandine; Salad au Suisse with Marco Polo Dressing, and Gateaux Glace Maison Brandied Peaches.

Entertainment is to be provided during the banquet by the Singing Sergeants of the United States Air Force Band. William Trees Louth will be master of ceremonies.

Committeemen

Walter F. Miller of Kensington, Md., and a native of Minneapolis, Minn., heads the very important finance committee for the convention. He is a relatively new ANA member, and, appropriately, is treasurer of the Montgomery County (Md.) Coin Club, and the Metropolitan Washington Numismatic Association.

Randolph Zander, who headed the program committee, was born in Montclair, N. J., and now resides in Alexandria, Va. He has been an ANA member since 1945, and has served on various committees.

His numismatic affiliations are numerous. Locally and regionally he is a member of the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association, the Washington Numismatic Society and the Montgomery County (Md.) Numismatic Society.

He is also a member of the International Association of Professional Numismatists, Society of Certified Professional Numismatists, Organization of International Numismatists and the Token & Medal Society.

Mrs. Evie Kelly of Albuquerque, New Mexico, was born in West Levant, Maine. She will continue to be responsible for communications at the convention, having capably done this each year since 1963.

Robert B. Moore, Sr., of Forestville, Md., heads up the special events committee. He was born in Greensboro, No. Car., and has been an ANA member since 1965. He is a past president of the GSA Coin Club, and a member of the Washington Numismatic Society and the Nation's Capitol Coin Club.

Frank R. Hanna of Hampton, Va., will be in charge of the press room during the convention. A native of Wayne, Pa., he is a five-year ANA member, and is a district representative. He was president of the Virginia Numismatic Association and the Virginia Peninsula Coin Club, and is a member of MANA and the Blue Ridge Coin Club.

Nelson Whitman is responsible for printing for the 80th anniversary convention. Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., he now resides in Annandale, Va., and is in charge of the coin department at Woodward & Lothrop's main store.

He became an ANA member in 1962; is a member of the board of directors of the Israel Numismatic Society of Washington, D.C., and is a member of the Washington Numismatic Society.

Alvin Macomber, photography, was born in Cicero, N. Y., and now is located in Alexandria, Va. He is a new ANA member, was MANA delegate for the Montgomery County Coin Club, and is affiliated with the Virginia Numismatic Association and the World Paper Money Collectors Club.

It's Convention Time Again

The 80th anniversary convention of ANA in Washington, D.C., August 10 to 14, should prove equal to its eminent location — the nation's capital. The day to day itinerary, as published here, could prove to be the last inducement needed to attend. May we greet you in Washington and share the following:

LATE WORLD COIN NEWS

Morocco

Fleur de Coins

Available to Collectors

The Moroccan government has at the present time eight denominations in circulation ranging from the 1 franc of 1951 to the 5 dirhams of 1965, the latter is roughly equivalent to the U. S. dollar.

The characteristics of these coins are: 5 dirhams, 1965, .720 silver, 29mm; 1 dirham, 1965, nickel, 24mm; 50 francs, 1952, cupro-aluminum, 27mm; 20 francs, 1952, cupro-aluminum, 23mm; 10 francs, 1951, cupro-aluminum, 20mm; 5 francs, 1951, aluminum, 25mm; 2 francs, 1951, aluminum, 22mm; and 1 franc, 1951, aluminum, 19mm.

Numismatic sets, including specimens of these coins, are now being offered to collectors by the Bank of Morocco. The sets are of "fleur de coin" quality. This corresponds roughly to "proof-like" in condition.

The coins are in small plastic containers packaged in a blue-gray pasteboard box, like those of the French Mint, and includes information as to the origin and the contents, as well as a gilt replica of the reverse side of the one dirham piece.

The price of the set including postage charges is $5 (US) for surface mail or $5.60 for airmail. Each order will have to be accompanied with its amount in a certified banker's draft or an international money order made payable to the order of the Bank of Morocco.

Trinidad and Tobago

From a Private Mint A Public Issue

The Franklin Mint has been awarded a contract to produce 1971 coins of Trinidad and Tobago, which will include the first issue of a new sterling silver five-dollar coin.

Trinidad and Tobago, two separate islands in the West Indies, are joined together to form a single nation which is a member of the United Nations and the British Commonwealth.

The contract for 1971-dated coins covers seven denominations: 1-cent, 5-cent, 10-cent, 25-cent, 50-cent, $1 and $5.

The new sterling silver five-dollar coin will depict the Scarlet Ibis, a bird native to these islands. The 5-cent and 1-cent coins will be minted in bronze, and the other four denominations in cupro-nickel.

The Franklin Mint will strike a limited number of proof sets as well as circulation coinage in all seven denominations.

The Franklin Mint, Franklin Center, Pa., is the world's foremost private mint. It has been appointed the official minter for the United Nations and also has produced currency for four other foreign countries: Bahamas, Jamaica, Panama and Tunisia.

NEW TO NICKEL IN COINAGE

Thirty-five countries adopted nickel and various nickel alloys for 70 new coins in 1969.

THE TOKEN COLLECTORS' PAGE

by Melvin Fuld, ANA 11932

WHAT SORT of man is malevolently capable of making a grown man freeze in terror, women reek in anguish and small children screech with uncontrolled fright? How can a society stand by and allow such a person to operate a veritable chamber of horrors with tortures so awful and numerous that Poe's "pendulum" seems like mere folly in comparison? Using cold and sharp-pointed steel instruments like merciless weaponry, he invades your mouth and makes your twenty-minute visit a period of incessant agony. After-which, as if this oral-obliteration wasn't good enough, he shakes your trembling hand and finishes you off with a warm smile and an invitation to return again soon. And with reluctant punctuality, we find ourselves back in two or three weeks, once more to suffer at his terrible hands. Alas, we must acknowledge the dentist as being a very insistent and persuasive individual.

Although dentistry, first practiced in the form of extraction, has been around since ancient Greece, it was not fully recognized professionally until 1840. Prior to this time, dentistry enjoyed a rather dubious calling which was acquired through apprenticeship without the benefit of formal schooling. In fact, up until A.D. 1400, surgeons believed in extracting only loose teeth and relied on crude and prying instruments for the task.

Because the early profession (or practice) was regarded so unfavorably and with little patronage, dentistry usually showed up in the form of exotic powders, ointments, spirits and tonics for relief and cure of the ailing tooth. Had you lived in 1700 England, for example, you might have responded to this advertisement taken from the paper, Spectator. They offered a "chymical Liquor" which, in a moment, would make "the most nauseous breath smell delicately fine and charming," as well as fastening any loose teeth and making the gums grow again "when almost eaten away." Another English paper, The Mercurius Politicus of December 20, 1660, informed gentlemen who had lost their teeth that there was a dentist willing to insert in his gums teeth pulled from the jaws of impoverished youths. Many of the remedies advertised, however, included dentifrices guaranteed to scour and cleanse the teeth, fasten the loose ones, preserve the mouth from cankers and sweeten the breath. As a rule, the reputation and dependability of these products were frequently in question.

During the latter 1920s and early 30s, preoccupation with bodily hygiene and functions resulted in hundreds of dental pharmaceuticals for the retail buyer. And although modern science has developed some pretty amazing toothpastes which aid in the prevention of tooth-decay and similar disorders, the dentist, unfortunately, is still very much in business.

The following is a painless look at a few of those wonderful old dental advertising tokens. It's doubtful, however, if we'll have the last laugh in this article.

All attempts to locate Smith's Germicide in the directories of leading cities of the 1880s and 1890s have proven futile. It is a cement for the mouth made in eight shades. No doubt it was a denture holder, but why eight shades were manufactured is a question. Because of the reverse, it is classified as a good luck piece. The swastika is a symbol of good luck although Cirlot, in his book, A Dictionary of Symbols, does not mention its use.

Consulting old directories and English token books, we fail to find any veterinary dentists. We found veterinary surgeons, veterinarians and veterinary instrument manufacturers. We wonder if any reader has ever seen another veterinary dentist listing?

CENTURY OLD NOTES

REDEMPTION OF BASE METAL COINS.—The amount of base metal coins redeemed to date is about two-hundred thousand dollars. The redemption is going on steadily at the rate of three thousand dollars daily, and, notwithstanding the prediction of the director of the Philadelphia Mint, the people prefer fractional currency to the accumulation of nickel coin.—Mason's Coin and Stamp Collectors' Magazine, 1871.

Great American Triumphs

The Longines Symphonette Society, in cooperation with the Great American Mint (Metal Arts Company) of Rochester, New York, is issuing a series commemorating 60 great American triumphs. From Paul Revere's midnight ride, pictured above, to the Apollo-11 moon landing, every area of American accomplishment will be represented. 40mm in diameter, the sterling medallion series is being designed by Joseph DiLorenzo for Longines. Further information may be obtained from Longines Symphonette Society, Symphonette Square, Larchmont, N. Y. 10538.

For the Junior

Special Convention Medal

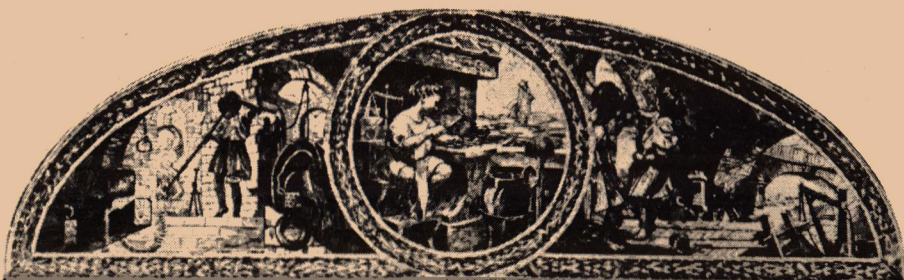

Prepared for Junior Registrants

The Franklin Mint, the world's largest private mint, has struck a sterling silver convention medal for the Young Numismatists of the American Numismatic Association. The limited edition striking has dimensions of 1.528 inches in diameter and a thickness of .104 inches.

Each medal will be packaged in an attractive blue velour card and encased in a rectangular lucite holder for permanent display. The obverse bears the Franklin Mint portrait of the company's namesake. The reverse design has not yet been announced.

The medal will be awarded to all juniors who are present at the Saturday, August 14, general meeting of the Young Numismatists at the 80th anniversary convention in Washington, D. C.

The Mint's Historic Tiffany Glass Mosaics

Seven Favrile glass mosaics, executed under the personal direction of Louis C. Tiffany of the famous Tiffany Studios of New York City, have been removed from the old Philadelphia Mint on Spring Garden Street and re-mounted in the new U. S. Mint on Independence Mall.

Mrs. Mary Brooks, Director of the Mint, had the mosaics moved from the old to the new Mint to preserve them as national treasures. The old Mint became inefficient and obsolete for coinage production and will be disposed of by the General Services Administration in accordance with regular procedures.

The mosaics, made from designs by William B. Van Ingen, are unique to the coinage operation and were commissioned at a cost of $40,000 for the third Mint facility in Philadelphia which opened in 1901. The two oblong pieces measure 49½ inches in height and 166¼ inches in width. The five circular works are 59½ inches in diameter. Appraisers have placed a today's fair value of $420,000 on the seven panels.

Tiffany's world celebrity derives from his brilliantly hued stained glass windows and mosaic designs found in many churches and buildings here and abroad and from his floriated glass-shaded lamps and ornamental objects on display in museums and held in private collections. The Mint's pictorial mosaics are among the finest examples of the superb craftsmanship and lasting beauty of Tiffany's decorative art.

He began his artistic career as a painter. An exceptional sense of color he wished to impart to varied art forms and a desire to raise the quality of minor arts to fine art — a term once reserved for oil paintings and sculpture — led him to turn his multi-faceted talent to making stained glass, mosaics, rare glazes for pottery, enamels, jewelry, tapestries and rugs. He was also a landscape artist, an interior decorator and interested in architecture and lighting filtered through colored glass. Tiffany once said:

"I have always striven to fix beauty in wood, or stone, or glass, or pottery, in oils, or watercolor, by using whatever seemed fittest for the expression of beauty. That has been my creed."

In the course of refining the technique of making richly colored stained glass and lustrous mosaics, he developed his own rainbow of colors and a new kind of glass which he named Favrile, taken from favrile which pertains to an artificer or his work and marks it as made by hand. His mosaics reflect his free use of color and to make them he used his iridescent Favrile glass, mother-of-pearl and transparent tesserae backed with gold or metal leaf.

Glass mosaics are one of the most durable art forms. They repel atmospheric and chemical gases and the disintegrating influences of the elements. Once stained, the glass pieces permanently retain their color.

The figures of children are used in the Mint's glass panels illustrating the ancient Roman coinage processes of melting, granulating, annealing or drying, weighing, stamping and finishing. Their use was suggested by a wall painting unearthed from the Casa dei Vettii during the excavations at Pompeii in 1895. Vesuvius erupted in 79 A.D. The Vettian mural, thought to have been done in the first half century of the Christian era, shows plump, winged cupids performing the ancient coinage methods.

The shimmering blues and greens of water and sky and the vivid red sails of a ship can be seen in the background of several of the Mint's masterpieces. For safety and ready access to transportation, ancient mints were built on islands or near the water to secure the shipments of coins from the perils of land travel.

At the turn of the century when the mosaics were installed at the Spring Garden Street Mint, Tiffany's decorative art held great appeal for the newly wealthy of the day. The panels embellished an elaborate white marble-walled lobby. Marble mosaics of the Great Seal of the United States were embedded in a marble-tiled floor and overhead glowed a gold-backed glass mosaic ceiling. A grand marble staircase swept up to a medal display room. The lobby's ornate design and dazzling golden radiance attracted throngs of out-of-town visitors and Philadelphians alike to the only public area in the old Mint.

Soon after, however, Tiffany's popularity began to wane and by 1920 his flowery art was out of vogue — scorned as too frilly, pretentious and naive. He died in 1933 at the age of 88.

Today there is a revival of appreciation for Tiffany's work — the colors and shapes he created and the new materials and techniques he discovered.

He was a splendid colorist, an inventor, an artist who saw only beauty and perfection in nature and life. He was born to comfortable circumstances and his creative work brought him added fortune and fame. He lived surrounded by magnificent settings he created in his country homes and city apartment. His love for the colors and symmetry of flowers, fruit, fish and the figures of young, healthy people is reflected in his work.

In describing his art, Tiffany once said:

"The great thing in art — the thing that has helped me more than anything — is the practice of looking at the beautiful and shutting out the ugly."

U. S. OLYMPIC TEAM MEDALS

Official United States Olympic Team commemorative medals are being made available to collectors direct from the Franklin Mint, Franklin Center, Pa. The three-medal set will mark the three major Olympic events of 1971-72 — the Pan American Games, Cali, Colombia; the Winter Olympics, Sapporo, Japan; and the Summer Olympics, Munich, Germany. The set, seen here in a special lucite holder, will be sold to raise funds to take the U. S. athletes to the Olympics. Struck in sterling, the set with holder sells for $35.00.

A Second Savannah Note

While researching photographs to illustrate my New Official Guide to United States Currency, I discovered an error note in the collection of The Chase Manhattan Bank Money Museum which should prove interesting to collectors of United States Currency. In the December, 1969 issue of this journal Wm. A. Philpott, Jr. wrote about a similar note also bearing mismatched charter numbers, the correct number being 3406. After some correspondence with Mr. Philpott I was assured the note he possessed is the only one known during the forty years it has been in his possession.

The bill in The Chase Manhattan collection must have been acquired years ago, possibly by Farran Zerbe, however he failed to notify the numismatic community. This note with the number 19988 also drawn on the National Bank of Savannah bears the same plate letter, E. Number 19988 is 320 away from the Philpott note. Although this amount or possibly more could have been printed, I doubt if all escaped the eyes of the examiners.

Mr. Philpott and I were both surprised to see this second note. We would be even more amazed if a third Savannah note appeared.

Currency Famine Credit

This morning I received a letter from Eric P. Newman, to the effect that I did not acknowledge the source material for the article I submitted, and which subsequently appeared in the January, 1971, issue of The Numismatist, on the Currency Famine of 1893.

This omission was a complete oversight on my part, and the article and illustrations originally appeared in similar form in Vol. II, No. 6, of Sound Currency, and published February 15, 1895.

I trust that this will serve to properly credit the source material so employed.

Norway's Loss

I wonder whether you would be willing to mention in your issue a catastrophic theft has taken place in Oslo, Norway. The owner is a good friend, Helge Reff, shipbroker from Oslo.

The collection is probably the most outstanding of all Scandinavian collections in private hands. Some of the material is a dead giveaway for the thieves if they try to sell it to a dealer who has been warned.

It consists of coins of Norway, Denmark and Sweden, from the 1500s to the 1920s, in gold and silver, including nine early Norwegian gold coins from 1665 to 1787, probably the rarest series in the world in gold with several unique pieces, double talers, dalers and their fractions, many of which are in mint condition.

Further there is an English collection, from 5 guineas down, and gold from Holland, Belgium, France, Austria and Japan. These coins will be more difficult to trace, but the Scandinavian material is so scarce nowadays, especially in top condition, that anyone trying to sell larger quantities certainly must be able to explain the origin.

Please help us in our endeavor to try and find this collection. A lifetime of numismatic interest has been put into it and numismatic Norway will be very much poorer for the loss of it.

One-eighth page	$15.00
One-quarter page	25.00
One-half page	47.50
One page	90.00

Color Available — Write for Specifics

The double center pages, inside and back cover pages are available on contract, prices on request. Contract advertisers enjoy the following discounts: 3 months, 2%; 6 mos., 5%; 1 year, 10%.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to Advertising Dept., The Numismatist, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80901. Make all remittances payable to American Numismatic Association.

DEADLINE: Copy must be received by the 5th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue. All advertising copy must be typed.

MECHANICAL REQUIREMENTS: Full page, 28½ x 45 picas; half pages may be either vertical or horizontal in format. Single column width, 13½ picas. Halftone engravings should be 110 line screen, mounted. Mats and stereos unacceptable. Position may be requested but cannot be guaranteed.

CIRCULATION: 27,000. No advertising agency commission granted. No discounts other than contract rates.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE

OTHER REQUIREMENTS: No mail bid sale listings nor ads offering lay-aways accepted. No ads accepted from minors. All ads must have numismatic significance. When advertising gold for sale, the following must be inserted in the ad, "All gold coins advertised are legally held."

CONTRACTS: Available for three, six and twelve consecutive month periods, at 2, 5 and 10 percent discounts respectively when contract requirements are fulfilled. In lieu of contract, reduced rates are granted only upon total advance payment for the period desired. Cancelled contracts will be rebilled at the next applicable rate. If new copy has not been received by the 5th of the month, the previous month's ad will be repeated.

REFERENCES: All advertisers are required to submit banking and trade references when advertising for the first time. Advertisers must be, or have one responsible member of their company, a member of ANA.

COPY: Ad copy must be typed on paper of good quality, preferably 8½ x 11", and be easily readable, and double spaced. Ad copy should be on separate sheets and never in the body of a letter of transmittal. Trade names may be used, but, except for the name of corporations, the name of the responsible person of the firm must also appear unless such person is known to the advertising manager in which case the name will be kept on file.

There will be an extra charge for heavy composition.

ILLUSTRATIONS: All cuts to be provided by the advertiser. When absolutely necessary engravings can be made from furnished photographs and advertiser will be billed at national rates.

* * *

The advertising manager has on file the names and addresses of all advertisers. Any complaints or requests for information regarding advertisers should be referred to the advertising manager. The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

1st Edition

Coins of Canada

Whitman's new book, Coins of Canada, is a fresh approach to the collecting of Canadian coins. Authored by well-known numismatists J. A. Haxby and R. C. Willey, it is probably one of the most significant ever published. Included are comprehensive sections on colonial coins and tokens, modern decimal coinage, and paper money from 1935 to date. The volume has many previously unpublished listings and varieties. Valuations are truly indicative of actual market conditions — a great departure from other publications. See your dealer today for Whitman's 1st edition of the really new look in Canadian coin reference books.

160 pages, soft cover. No. 9058. $1.75

SOUND ADVICE IS WORTH THE PRICE

You CAN buy experience! Ours. Now, in our 42nd year as professional numismatists, we are helping more and more collectors and dealers, too, with their numismatic problems.

Be it buying or selling, estate planning or taxes, or just plain sound advice, the problems are coming to the "doctor", the professional's professional.

It takes a long time to chalk up 42 years of experience. We have it and you can reap the benefits. It may well be your best numismatic investment.

(Our schedule for 1971 is full through November. 1972 is now being programmed)

THINKING OF SELLING?

We know how difficult it can be to mail away a coin collection that represents years of careful attention. We enjoy coins as much as you do and can appreciate your predicament. Why not do as thousands of collectors do and send your coins to Paramount. We are always in the market for rare coins and will pay a fair price to get them.

Hesitate to send rare coins through the mail? With a little care and attention you can eliminate the possibility of loss. First: package your coins carefully and send them to us via Insured or Registered mail. Insure your coins with the Post Office at the time of mailing for what you consider to be a fair value. When your coins arrive at our offices, we will sign for them and place them in our modern, fully protected and insured vaults. A member of our staff will then carefully examine your coins and make our firm cash offer. Our volume of business and up to the minute knowledge of the rare coin market enable us to pay more for your coins. If you accept our offer, our check will follow by return mail. If you choose not to accept, your coins will be promptly returned to you fully insured and postpaid at our expense. Most of the offers we make are accepted . . . a good indication of the prices we pay. When it comes time to sell, you'll do well to consider Paramount.

Great Religions of the World

Depicted in Magnificent Medallic Art Series...
Unprecedented! Provocative! Inspiring!

ART, EDUCATION AND RELIGION COMBINED

Relating art, education and religion, the series vividly recreates the symbolism and history of the world's great religions. In most cases, an outstanding personality associated with that particular faith appears on the Obverse of the medal. On the Reverse are historic and contemporary symbols of that religion.

THEY HELPED PUT IT ALL TOGETHER

International Advisory Commission of noted churchmen — Dr. David Poling, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Dr. Billy Graham, Bishop Fulton Sheen, Secretary George Romney and many other world religious leaders are participating in the program.

WORLD FAMOUS SCULPTOR

The dynamic designs and exquisite sculpturing of Ralph J. Menconi make the series even more inspiring and more memorable.

A WORD ABOUT THE MEDALS

Presidential Art Medals, creator of the program, will issue ten new medals each year until the series of 25 is completed. Bronze medals will have a variety of very beautiful patinas — with a different color tone and patina for each religion.

BOOKLET BY DR. DAVID POLING INFORMS

A 20 page booklet by Dr. Poling covering the history of the particular religion comes with each medal.

ISSUED IN BRONZE, SILVER, GOLD FILLED

Medals 1 3/4 inches in diameter, are issued as follows:

Bronze — Unnumbered $4.50 per medal

Silver — Antique Oxidized Finish

Limited issue — 5,000 complete sets

5,000 individual medals on each religion $20.00 per medal

(Total 10,000 Silver of each religion)

Gold Filled 1/10th 14K G.F. 24K Gold Finish

CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT ! ! ! ! We will advance a percentage of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. Please send inventory first — do not send coins until you hear from us. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement within 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases our advance will be almost equal to others offer of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a postcard with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalogue mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

OUR SALES ARE USUALLY HELD IN THE PARKER HOUSE

We are always in need of desirable numismatic material and will be happy to travel anywhere in the world to acquire it — either for auction or for outright purchase provided the value of the material warrants it.

NO COLLECTION IS TOO LARGE — We will furnish bank references upon request.

America's Leading Buyer of Rare Coins

WANTS TO BUY FROM YOU!

To build our inventory and to fill our customers' want lists we urgently want to buy choice U.S. coins. Our large volume of sales makes it possible for us to operate on a lower overhead — resulting in a higher offer for your coins.

Over the years it has been our pleasure to have purchased intact many of the finest collections to be sold in America and Europe — including nearly every rarity in the Guidebook. But, you don't have to have one of the world's finest collections or have great rarities — on the contrary, we're keenly interested in any choice individual coins worth $10 apiece or more.

WHAT WE WANT TO BUY: If you're entire collection is for sale, we'll take anything and everything when we buy it intact. Generally speaking, we're interested in any choice collection which includes scarcities and rarities and early material in Uncirculated and Proof grades.

INDIVIDUAL ITEMS: Or, you can sell us individual sets and items, as thousands of collectors and dealers have done. We want the following: Choice colonial coins, any and all (originals only; no copies please!) all half cents and large cents valued at $10 each and upward; Indian and Lincoln cents — sets in all or mostly Unc. and Proof grades; 2c and 3c pieces — any valued at $10 each or more; Nickels — any 1866 to 1938 nickels worth @$10 or more; Early silver coins — all issues 1794 - 1891 any grade valued at $10 each or more; Barber coins in EF to Proof grade; all 20th century issues valued @$10 or more in the Liberty standing 25c, Mercury dime, Liberty walking 50c, etc. series; All silver dollars 1794 - 1935 worth @$10 or more; All trade dollars 1873 - 1885; all U.S. gold coins of scarce and rare varieties; Territorial gold; all U.S. pattern coins URGENTLY wanted; all commemorative coins wanted. We want many other items; if you don't see an item listed above, write to us first and we'll advise you of our interest.

HOW TO SELL TO US: Selling to us is as easy as A-B-C, and thousands of collectors and dealers have done it. Here's all you do: Package your coins carefully and sent them to us by insured or registered mail. Q. David Bowers and James F. Ruddy (A.N.A. life members and professional numismatists for many years) will personally examine your coins and submit a confidential cash offer for them. Upon receipt of our offer you can say "Yes" or "No." (Nearly everyone says "Yes" — our offers are sincere and generous!) We'll airmail our check if you accept our offer; if not, the coins will be returned to you postpaid and insured at our expense.

ADVANTAGES OF SELLING TO US: (1) You get a generous offer for your coins; our tremendous volume of business permits us to pay you more. (2) You get immediate cash payment in full (and in confidence; we do not reveal the price paid or from whom we purchase our coins). (3) You get a pleasant and enjoyable transaction. For years we've been buying coins from sellers like yourself. You'll like the Bowers and Ruddy way of doing business.

For references you may apply to any leading dealer, numismatic organization, or numismatic publication. We are members of: American Numismatic Association (Q. David Bowers is Life Member 336; James F. Ruddy, Life Member 337); Professional Numismatists Guild; American Numismatic Society; Royal Numismatic Society (London), etc.

THINKING OF SELLING? We're ready, willing, and eager to buy from you! If you want quick, confidential cash for your coins — and a generous price as well — you've come to the right place! We'll look forward to hearing from you by mail.

Sincerely, Jim and Nancy Ruddy and Q. David Bowers

If you want to buy coins from us, we'll send you a copy of the latest issue of the Rare Coin Review, regular price $2, for just $1 postpaid (subscription to next 6 issues is $5). It contains excellent values in all U.S. series plus colonials, commemoratives, gold patterns, etc. If you're a dealer or an advanced collector, being on our mailing list is a must!

Is Tarzan hanging around your attic?

If "Tarzan of the Apes," published in 1914, is there, you could be $75 richer.

But you wouldn't know this. Not unless you had a copy of the "Bookfinders' Value Guide," a brand-new listing of valuable books.

Just published, this illustrated book lists "Tarzan" and almost 1,500 other "rare books" that can bring their finders anywhere from $25 to $300 to $1,000 and more.

The fact is, "rare books" are not rare at all. They're everywhere. In attics. Garages. Basements. Public libraries. Even in your living room.

If you trip across the right volume by Edgar Allan Poe, Mark Twain, or Nathaniel Hawthorne, you can hit the literary jackpot.

book dealer for between $40 and $500.

This unique book lists almost 1,500 works published between 1818 and 1969 by over 1,000 authors. It is by far the most complete, accurate list of its type ever published. It gives authors, titles, dates and places of first publication.

James Manning Bergquist, PhD., is the Consulting Editor for the "Bookfinders' Value Guide," which also introduces you to the fascinating hobby of book collecting. Dr. Bergquist, Professor of History at Villanova University, has published many scholarly articles and reviews on American History, a rich background to draw on for his subject of "rare books."

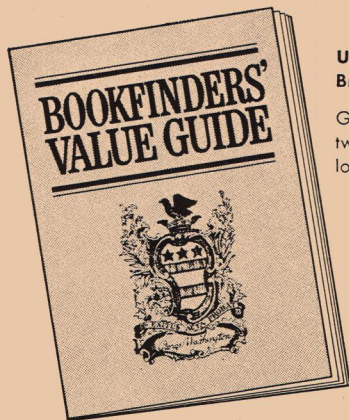

If you just happen to find a signed original copy of James Joyce's "Ulysses," you can trade it for a dream vacation.

You may not be that lucky. But you can easily come up with a lesser treasure by, say, John Steinbeck, William Faulkner, or Ernest Hemingway that you can sell to almost any

The price of this priceless little volume is only $3.75, including postage and handling. Two for $7. Six for $18.90. One trip to the attic can repay you a hundred times over.

Send your check or money order for this "first edition" today. Then start hunting for "Tarzan" and those other not-so-rare books.

There's money in rare (and not-so-rare) books and in old numismatic books.

FRIENDS, ROMANS, COLLECTORS SELL ME YOUR COINS!

In conjunction with the expansion of our retail sales division, we are instituting a separate subsidiary which will be wholly devoted to making purchases for our various divisions.

Due to the enormous need generated by our full volume picture, we are placed in the position of having to buy at a constantly escalating rate. We pay so much more because we sell so much more! We can use a wide and varied assortment of numismatic items that most other dealers just don't have the facilities to handle. We want more than just a few choice items in your collection, we want and need everything, whether it is AG or PROOF, whether OBSOLETE or MODERN. If it's collectable, we want it! Complete collections any series, paper money and foreign coinage WANTED. Obviously it is impossible for us to list what we want, because we want almost everything and are willing to pay for it.

To those of you whose holdings are considerable, the above as well as the following should be of prime importance. As a matter of policy we maintain a cash position far and above any of our immediate or long range needs. Therefore we are in a position to handle your collection or accumulation immediately. It's always nice to know when you deal with the Old Roman Inc., you are dealing with principles only.

We now invite you to ship your coins directly to us for IMMEDIATE appraisal and disposition in the form of an airmail check to you which you may either accept or decline. Either ship your coins or write for our most generous offer.

If for any reason we can't come to terms, as always we pay return postage. If it's expeditious or advantageous to either of us, we will of course travel to negotiate the purchase and transfer of your holdings.

All matters are held in the strictest confidence.

MINOR SILVER COINS SOLD BY THE POUND

Due to the many requests we have been asked to sell minor coins by the pound and these pound lots will consist mainly of Mexican coins with other countries ADDED. As the mark-up in Coin Books is so great over the bullion weight, these are REAL BARGAINS, and most of this lot will be BU...
As most silver coins have vanished into the melting pots over the past years this is an AMAZING INVESTMENT.

SELECT FOREIGN NUMISMATIC MATERIAL

Listed below are choice and desirable foreign items for sale. We also are looking to purchase this type of material and would like you to contact us if you are in the market to sell. Stop by and pay us a visit at our table at the ANA convention this August.

1. AUSTRALIA 1934 six piece proof set. Only 100 minted and quite underestimated in value. Will wholesale for a lot more within the next few years than the $650 we are asking today.
2. AUSTRIA 1877 Raxalpe Inn Taler Dav. 30 YA20—With a mintage of 100 we predict that this famous and elusive crown will soon sell in the area of $5000 or more. A few years ago we predicted that the 1917 Saxony Reformation 3 mark would reach this figure and it surpassed it threefold. Our price for this Uncirculated specimen$2750
3. AUSTRIA 1887 Kuttenturg Mines Taler Dav. 33 Y20—A choice proof specimen of another rare commemorative with a mintage of only 400. Last year we sold one for $1500 and we would pay this for another. This is for sale for 1875
4. GREECE 1844/1 5 Drachmai Dav. 115 — An EF type of a scarce date and possibly unique overstrike. We have never seen another advertised or in a private collection. Price 750
5. GREENLAND 1777 Pillar Dollar SDNSA 1 in About Uncirculated condition. The scarcer of the two dates and a choice piece. Will someday sell in the five figure area ... today a bargain at 3650
6. LIECHTENSTEIN 1862 Taler Dav. 215 Y1—The only nineteenth century crown from this country and rarer than most people realize. We offer a nice Uncirculated specimen for 1000
7. MONACO 1837 5 Francs Dav. 220. Undoubtedly one of the rarest 19th Century European crowns extant and curiously enough signed on the obverse and reverse by Rogat the famous French engraver. Fewer than seven pieces exist and this piece is from the Bank Leu sale of 1964. Before the turn of the century some of us will live to see a ten thousand or more price tag on this museum piece. A once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to purchase this fantastic coin for only 4250
8. RUSSIA 1836 1½ Ruble with the full medallist name on truncate... Dav. 286 Severin 3180 variety—A lovely proof sample of this most rare type and we doubt that more than 10 pieces exist. For the European collector and or Russian specialist. Price 3500
9. SOUTHERN RHODESIA 1937 six piece proof set. This is one of the most difficult Commonwealth Proof sets to obtain as very few of the 40 minted have survived. This is the first we have handled and it is a steal at 1250
10. SPAIN 1635 Cinquenta (50 Reales). A classical and superb specimen (Cal.1819) in a state of preservation as struck by the Royale mint. Of highest rarity and degree of condition. A VF specimen recently brought $4,250... Our price and a bargain at 5000
11. SPAIN 1885 Charles VII Pretender 5 Pesetas Cal.1841 Yr.472 in FDC. This silver reeded edge pattern was designed and minted at Brussels and although intended for circulation Alphonso remained King and as a result few were minted. This date is extremely rare and only a few pieces exist. Price for this numismatic prize 2750

PRADEAU-BOTHAMLEY

AND MANY COINS FROM THE F. C. C. BOYD COLLECTION.

PART III AUCTION

(Tentatively scheduled October - November '71)

This will be the finest collection of Mexican coins ever offered at public auction sale. Many of the coins were the actual pieces that were used as illustrations in "Historia Numismatica de Mexico", by Dr. A. F. Pradeau.

We are listing below a sampling of the highlights:

Mexican colonial coinage.

Finest group of Mexican counterstamp coinage ever offered.

Finest group of Morelos coinage, including 8 Reals, silver, 1813 Oaxaca, which is unique.

Four types of Oaxaca Mint 1812 8 Reals.

Valladolid de Michoacan 8 Reals 1813 with three different counterstamps. Possibly unique. Considered by many collectors to be the rarest Mexican coin.

Zongolica 2 and 8 Reals.

Suprema Junta Nacional coinage — all dates. ½, 1, 2, 4, 8 Reals.

Sombrerete de Vargas coinage — all dates. 1, 4, 8 Reals.

Three different types of Nueva Vizcaya 8 Reals.

Iturbide coinage in unc. condition.

Maximilian coinage — Centavos, 5 Cents. 10 Cents. 50 Cents. Pesos and 20 Pesos.
Mostly in AU-Unc. cond.

Close to 20 different Mexican patterns.

Decimals and Reales coinage in top condition.

Modern coinage from centavos to gold coins.

Needless to say, many of these coins will be offered for the first time at public sale.

Send $1.00 to receive catalog and prices realized. Residents outside of the U. S., please send $2.00. This catalog is sure to be a classic.

PUBLIC AND MAIL BID AUCTION SALE

at the beautiful

Sheraton Silver Spring Hotel

Collectors attending the American Numismatic Association Convention in Washington which closes August 14th, would profit by extending their numismatic holiday by one day. Silver Spring, Maryland is Washington's bedroom and a short drive from the convention hotel.

The Fuld Library is outstanding, probably one of the three finest private libraries in the country. It covers all fields, but particularly strong in United States, Tokens, and books on Paper Money, as well as Classics and Rarities in the Auction Catalog category. Periodicals too, are well represented with complete sets of outstanding rarities. Of particular note is the fact that most of the books have been bound to suit the subject and lettered in gold.

PUBLIC AUCTION SALE OF THE CELEBRATED
ALBERT A. GRINNELL COLLECTION OF UNITED STATES PAPER MONEY
CATALOGUED BY BARNEY BLUESTONE,
NOVEMBER 25, 1944, AT 1 P.M. SHARP

How many of you remember this sale? This auction was so large it took 2 years to catalogue and sell, and took 7 auction catalogues with 700 pages to print all the paper money Grinnell owned.

This gigantic sale was the largest public and mail auction ever held for U.S. Paper Money. The auction began on November 25, 1944, and the last session was held on November 30, 1946.

We have answered the collectors' and dealers' needs. We have reprinted exactly the same 1,000 copies of all 7 volumes (7 catalogues). All are bound under one hard cover (700 pages) with prices realized. Today, no more than 15 complete units of all 7 catalogues exist. If a complete set were available, the asking price would be well over $100.00.

We noticed under "IMPORTANT NOTICE" in the front of Part VII catalogue that Barney Bluestone offered for sale intact in 1946 all 7 copies bound for $25.00. Well, 25 years later, we offer the same exact thing in reprint. It is the same size, the same paper and same everything for the same price of $25 postage paid. All books are numbered from 1 to 1000. We expect a quick sell out so send check for exact number of copies requested.

SOCIETY CERTIFIED

is a recognized and honored group of professional coin dealers who are known and respected for their long years of dedicated services, with years of tested ability and honesty in this field of commercial numismatics, who have served their hobby with DIGNITY and HONOR, some for 20-50-100 years of continuous service.

This Society is unique in this field of professional numismatics, it is a co-operative group without elected officers, without a constitution, and without by-laws.

The majority of our members were associated with other professional groups of coin dealers and for many years served on numerous committees, also contributed their knowledge to write their constitution and their by-laws. With their knowledge from previous association with other professional groups, each member in this Society, brings with them a certificate and is so recognized as HIS CODE OF HONOR, and can only be accepted as a member, when their application is sworn and signed by a NOTARY PUBLIC, THIS IS MANDATORY.

This Society is guided and advised by a COUNCIL OF HONORED AND DISTINGUISHED COLLECTORS, all applications are approved or rejected by this COUNCIL.

The seal and the members of this SOCIETY represents "DIGNITY AND HONOR," and is so recognized with respect in this field of national and international numismatics.

This announcement is a notice and a guide line for the collector seeking to be served with DIGNITY AND HONOR, by certified professional dealers and require no other form of certification. If you plan to attend the ANA Convention in Washington, D. C., arrange time to visit with or contact the following who will have bourse tables.

HASTY SELLING VS. QUICK BORROWING

Selling your collection can be profitable if you have enough time to find the best prices. But a collection sold quickly is seldom sold profitably.

In any emergency, borrow the money you need at Edelman's. Use your collection as collateral and still retain complete ownership.

At Edelman's, you can obtain quick confidential loans for any amount up to 80% of the value of your properties — from $50 to $50,000 and more. Take as long as 30 months to pay with a repayment plan tailored to your specific needs. Your collection will be safely protected in Edelman's air-conditioned vaults until you reclaim it. Write today for further information.

SAN FRANCISCO COMMEMORATIVE SILVER SLUG AND INGOT

A 40% silver proof Eisenhower Dollar is costing you $10.00. At the same rate, if it were pure silver, it would cost $25.00.

The 40% proofs will be issued over a four year period. It will be necessary for the collector to have all four years to complete the collection. This collection would cost approximately $100.00, if it were pure silver (which it is not).

The San Francisco Silver Slug is as pure as silver can be refined — 99%+ fineness. The metal has been worked many times for hardness and toned to depict the various colors of the mint silver, from pure 99%+ to coin 90%.

There will be 20,000,000 Eisenhower proof dollars struck. There are only 10,000 Silver Slugs available. The San Francisco Silver Slug is a collection in itself.

The Eisenhower Dollar commemorates a great American. The Silver Slug commemorates the end of a great American system — the end of hard money in our monetary exchange — June 24, 1968. There is no more backing for any of our paper dollars.

Both commemoratives are of great importance to our democracy. They would be excellent heirlooms to pass on to the coming generation.

We can supply you with a Silver Slug — still $35.00. To order your Eisenhower Proof Silver dollar, contact your local bank or post office.

Silver bars are still a good hedge against our depreciating dollar. 10 ounce bar — $27.50; 5 ounce bar — $14.00.

(California residents add 5% tax.)

Another Month — another?

Lucky I like the coin business — because the past month has been hectic. We prepared a new semi-annual stock list (28pp), a new monthly list (10pp), a wholesale list (26pp — only for dealers) and the deadline for this advertisement came too fast, so this is written with a song and a prayer!

These lists do mean that I have good stock of foreign coins, banknotes, crowns (only fair) and a lot of other odds and ends, and it might possibly be worth your while to write for the list which concerns your interests. I am one of the two distributors for the UN-FAO albums, too; write for circular on that.

Here are a few recent acquisitions:

Barbados similar crown, unc	3.50
Bahamas 1969 set in card 1¢ to

THINKING OF SELLING

Sell your coins to a coin retailer. We have a fine retail outlet for your coins in all price ranges.

Here's All You Do

Package your coins securely and mail to us either insured or registered mail. Our check goes out to you same day they are received here. Your coins held intact while you consider our offer. If your collection is too large to mail contact us and we will work out suitable arrangements.

We invite you to contact any numismatic publication to check our professional reference.

It's A Wonderful World

Especially as seen through the eyes of the numismatist. The collector truly appreciates the fact that in the fast-moving world of today, the only thing that remains constant is change.

Keeping knowledgeable collectors knowledgeable is our job. We do it through continually updating the authoritative references you know as the "Red Book," "Blue Book," "Current Coins of the World" and others. All from the world of Whitman . . . a wonderful way for you to keep pace.
